St. Jane Frances de Chantal School

Help the Hungry and the Homeless!!!

By. Therese Nehme and Jane Karam

January/February
Volume 1, Issue 1

During Catholic Schools Week, St. Jane's students and family members were asked to bring in non-perishable items for people who are in need. Items donated varied from paper goods to laundry detergent, from cereal to pasta. All donations went to St. Vincent de Paul's Food Pantry (formerly Easton Catholic School.)

Enough donations were given to fill a truck load and a couple of cars of food. Thanks to St. Jane's and their families, this project was a huge success. Also thanks to Mrs. Stumpf in 4B who helped organized it.

Great Job,
Everyone!

Teacher Feud!

By John Locascio

During Catholic School week, we were treated to a special teacher assembly. The teacher's trivia game! It was like the popular game show Family Feud. The teams were divided into class A's and class B's. The game consisted of 4 rounds each game and 2 games were played. The answers were provided by a student body poll. Mrs. Mares was the "MC" Master of Ceremony. The students cheered on their favorite team.

The buzzers were like the buzzers on jeopardy (loaned from the academic bowl). An example of one of the questions was "What do you put on a cake?" The top 2 answers were: Frosting and Candles. Everyone laughed at the answers: "Letters" and "Flowers" as ridiculous answers. The students roared wildly every time they perceived something even remotely funny.

The A team won both games. The students and teachers had loads of fun. The game show in my opinion was a success. I hope the teachers had as much fun as I did and I can't wait till next year.

Vocabulary Parade

By Bryson Reidinger and Keenan Orr

This year's vocabulary parade was both fun and exciting. Both fifth-grade classes worked very hard to make the vocabulary parade what it was, but as the vocabulary parade drew closer, people started to act crass (to act rude or to be rude). This was bad because to get ready, people needed to work together. While some felt crass, others felt like a bibliophile (one who loves books) as they looked through book after book to find a last minute word. Then it was time. People filled the pews to watch. One after one people went on stage to present their word. One after one people went up on stage feeling like an extraterrestrial (to feel out of this world or to be out of this world). Then it was over and everything went back to normal without any catastrophes (a sudden and widespread disaster).

MATH 24 STATS

By Bryson Reidinger and Keenan Orr

17music2pa or Richard Muller in 5B has been ahead for the entire school year and still is. Close behind Richard is a third grader who is known as 02coin60pa who has 7,017 stickers. Close behind that person is a student named Kate Costantino who has 6,214 in 5A. Will they catch up? Will time run out? Will Richard beat us all? Stay tuned to the newspaper to find out!!!!!!!!!!

Keep up the great work, Math 24

And the teacher of the month is...

MRS. MOYNIHAN!

By: Gillian MacDonald & Jennie Melhem

This is our interview on Mrs. Moynihan, the new 7th grade teacher!

G&J: We heard you went to school here, has it changed a lot?

MM: It has changed a lot. Where I'm teaching now, used to be where kindergarten and pre-k was.

G&J: Did you always want to be a teacher?

MM: I have always wanted to be a teacher since 1st grade.

G&J: How do you like teaching at St. Jane's?

MM: I like it a lot. It is good to be back. 7th and 8th grade is a lot of fun.

G&J: What is the best thing about being a teacher?

MM: The best thing about being a teacher is being able to help the students be successful.

That is our interview with Mrs. Moynihan. Throughout the interview she was very excited. ☺

Father-Daughter Dance

By Ava Tumminello and Veronica Darno

Listen up all you 3rd through 6th grade girls: There's an exciting event we have to tell you about. It's the Father-Daughter Dance!!

There are so many fun things you and your dad (or loved one) can do at this dance. If you want to find out more about the Father-daughter Dance you'll have to read on.

On Friday, February 10, 2012 we had the Father-Daughter Dance. It was really fun. There was delicious pasta, salad, garlic knots, and many scrumptious desserts to choose from. Mrs. Gillen was an amazing photographer that night. She took pictures of the girls and their dads (or loved one) and the girls with their friends. She also took pictures while you were dancing. We danced all night, and even did the limbo!

This is a really lovely event! Oh, and next year if you decide to come, don't forget to bring your dad!

The Soccer Corner

By: Kaiden Chinchar

Many people have never heard about one of the biggest soccer tournaments in the world, the F.A. Cup. The F.A. Cup stands for "Football Association Challenge Cup". It first originated in 1871, in England. Since then, all English Premier League, the Football League, the FA National League System, as well as selected teams are able to compete in this thrilling tournament. The grand prize is a large silver trophy that the winning team will receive after the final match and bragging rights as the best team in England.

Right now, this tournament is the fifth round, which is one of the most interesting rounds. What makes this round interesting is that teams called the "minnows" which are small clubs that formed their own independent teams get the opportunity to 'knock out' some of the highest ranked teams. In our area, it would be similar to a group of local guys creating a baseball team and being able to play the New York Yankees for the Championship!

What also makes this tournament interesting is that it is held every year, and new teams win often. Manchester United (soccer team that plays in the English Premier League) has been the most successful team in this tournament, winning 11 titles. Make sure that you stay tuned and watch the F.A. Cup quarter finals.

Super Bowl XLVI

By Jake Knarr and Neil Valkenburg

New England Patriots VS New York Giants

Rematch of the 2007 Super Bowl

Giants World Champions!

Eli Manning led the New York Giants to their 4th Super Bowl victory! The Giants took an early lead by an intentional grounding call for a safety. The safety led to a New York touchdown making the score 9-0 at the end of the 1st quarter. The Patriots made a comeback scoring 10 points in the 2nd quarter, taking the lead 10-9 at halftime. During the 3rd quarter the Patriots scored another touchdown, extending their lead to 17-9. Then, the Giants scored two field goals making the score 17-15, ending the 3rd quarter. In the 4th quarter Tom Brady threw an interception giving the Giants another opportunity to take the lead. New York took advantage of that opportunity and scored another touchdown. The Patriots had one more attempt to score a touchdown and win the Super Bowl, but a pass attempt on 4th down fell incomplete ending the game. The Giants won 21-17. The 2012 Super Bowl MVP for his second time in 5 years was New York quarterback, Eli Manning!
